Riggins Construction & Management, Inc. was selected to design and construct the new home for the County Supervisor-Fourth District and his staff. Working to County of San Bernardino building standards, the existing improvements were demolished and the ceiling tiles carefully removed and stored for later chemical cleaning and reinstallation. Portions of the concrete floor were removed to accommodate plumbing modifications required for a new modern lunch room facility as well as a future rest-room. Air conditioning, lighting and life- safety alarm systems were modified, and the ceiling tiles reinstalled. A large office was constructed for the Supervisor along with a spacious adjoining conference room. Comfortable yet functional staff offices were installed utilizing side lite windows with mini-blinds strategically located contiguous to the Supervisor. A large storage room with cabinets and a sliding pocket door was developed, as well as a large office expansion area. All floors were covered with quality carpets, color coordinated to complement the painted walls as well as the rich wall covering, fixtures, and cabinets within the lunchroom area. To complete the facility, the glass entry doors and related store front systems were modified, and the entry landscape embellished.
